

1-1-1945

Irle

Irle [no last name]

Follow this and additional works at: http://dh.howard.edu/prom_corres

Recommended Citation

[no last name], Irle, "Irle" (1945). Correspondence. 86.
http://dh.howard.edu/prom_corres/86

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Prometheans at Digital Howard @ Howard University. It has been accepted for inclusion in Correspondence by an authorized administrator of Digital Howard @ Howard University. For more information, please contact lopez.matthews@howard.edu.

Sunday morn--

Dear Dr. Tate,

I + Amy

I have read all of your financial reports and somehow I always felt that you were directing the report to me. I made the promise that as soon as I accumulated some money, I was going to send it to you. I would explain to you the reason I fell so far behind, but you would probably think that I am an escaped convict, so I'll skip that (smile).

Again the "Prometheans" are being separated. John Nealy, has been transfered to a quartermaster outfit and David Cason is in an air corp quartermaster outfit. I don't know how they missed me. I guess I'm not as efficient as the other fellows (smile). There are quite a few other fellows who were transfered, but I can't remember their names at this writing.

I saw Cason today and he told me that the fellows are sending little snapshots to you so that you may be able to recognize some of us. I know you can only remember a few because there were so many of us who were attending Howard University. I'll try my best to send you one of me so that you will be able to laugh when the going gets tough (smile).

I received your letter about a week ago. I must congratulate you because of the interest you have taken in the club. I never knew the Howard staff thought so much of us.

Oh well, my time is drawing to a close because of the work I have ahead of me. Give my regards to the other Professors and Instructors.

Sincerely,
H. K.